

- Must/mustn't/can/can't modals for deduction
- Have to/had to
- Verbs in -ing
- Some,any,no – Something. Somewhere, somebody
- Should for giving advice
- Imperative forms
- Countables and uncountable nouns
- Me too, so do I , neither do I agreeing and disagreeing
- Connectors : and, but , so, first, then, after that, eventually
- Ordering food
- Asking for and giving advice
- A lot, much, many, a little, a few
- Comparatives and superlatives / exceptions
- Too, enough
- Simple present vs present continuous
- Question tags various forms
- The Zero article
- To be like, to look like – describing people
- Common illnesses
- Past simple vs present perfect
- Definite and indefinite adverbs
- Need/needn't
- Preposition of time and place
- All future forms - will offers/promises
- Infinitive of purpose
- Causative verbs : get, allow, permit, persuade, require, have, make
- You had better (not)
- Irregular verbs
- Some passive forms – have/get something done
- Past continuous vs past simple
- Adverbs formation -ly and exceptions
- After and before + ing form of verbs
- Reported speech
- Possessive adjectives and pronouns
- Intensifiers . so, much, too, enough
- Duration form

Pronunciation guide : some phonetic symbols
To be about vs to be going to /predictions
Conditional zero, 1,2,3 and mixed

READING (photocopies)

- Let's eat in Britain- Food- Dishes
- The Great British Breakfast
- Clean hands day
- British music is great
- British houses
- Diwali
- We love to be beside the seaside
- William Shakespeare
- The European Union
- The great medical discovery: DNA
- Sport : stress or fun ?
- My stay-cation

Competences - Listening and speaking skills

“At the airport”

“At the souvenir gift shop”

“At the tourist information centre”

“At a youth hostel”

“At an internet café”

“At the station”

- Conditional zero, 1,2,3 and mixed